

Of Interest to WOMEN

SONG.

Over the hills of the blossoming clover, Up from the spring-scented lake Came a warm wind singing over And over
Ever a wistful refrain:

"Here in the meadow are buds blossoming,
Life is as sweet as a song Summer is coming, is coming, is coming, Why do you linger so long?"

Moonglight last night o'er the warm earth, was breaking Moonlight and silvery dew Earth was asleep, but my heart was still waking,
Calling and calling to you.

"Summer has come to the hills and the meadows,
Summer and sunlight and song, Winter and sorrow have fled with the shadows,

ers' convention.

munion party for children in honor of her daughter Jane's birthday anniversary.

Social Affairs for Bankers Con- vention.

The Country club offered a beautiful and fitting place for the dance last night when Tulsa bankers and their wives were hosts to the visitors here to the convention. The Hotel Tulsa orchestra played the program of music. Groups of Tulsaans stood in the hallways and drawing room and received. There was that perfect atmosphere that should charac-terize so elegant an affair, and it proved seductive. The visitors came and enjoyed everything to the fullest. Refreshments were served during the season, which had been served, also, in the flowers, all the variety from Tulsa gardens that are fairly afloat now with roses, daisies, honeysuckle and other early blooms were artistically arranged. It was all very lovely.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brown was thrown open Wednesday afternoon when women of the convention were entertained royally. An afternoon tea was given.
Amid all that is attractive in the way of floral enhancement, matron and maid loaned their presence and grace and the hours were filled with much that pleased. The wives of Tulsa bankers preside and received, and there were many other lovely aids.

At five o'clock yesterday afternoon a horse show was staged at the riding academy of Mr. J. W.
McDonnell at Eighteenth and Boulder when magnificent horses from famous stables were exhibited. Many of the fine horsemen and horsewomen of the city were in the parade which opened the show and rode these splendid animals. There are many informal entertainments being given for the visitors. There are hours on the golf links at the country club, automobile rides to points of interest in the city and to adjacent places, especially the oil fields. Tulsa is doing all it can to make the time spent here by the Oklahoma bankers one grand good time. The social part is keeping pace with other features of the convention and program and all of it seems to be much enjoyed.

Thursday's official event will be the beautiful luncheon at the Country club in honor of the visiting women. Mrs. Henry N. Greis is chairman on this occasion and she and her able committee have given much thought to it. Invitations locally have been extended only to the wives of the active members of the various Tulsa banks and the members of the four committees in charge of the entertainment; the tea, the dance and the luncheon. A feature of the luncheon will be the singing of Miss Nellie O'Brien of Kansas City, a coloratura soprano, who will sing to orchestral accompaniment.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm.
It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young!
Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.
